Prix de la délégation générale du Québec à Londres

ACSI is pleased to announce the call for applications for the Prix de la délégation générale du Québec à Londres. Two prizes of 1000 euros each (one academic and one postgraduate) will be awarded at the ACSI conference in Waterford 26th-28th April 2018.

The prizes are open to academic staff and postgraduate students currently working in any area of Quebec Studies on the island of Ireland.

The bursaries are intended to assist with research costs and may be used for the purpose of conference attendance, travel, publication and the development of teaching courses, providing that there is a direct link to Quebec Studies.

Applicants are invited to submit a brief research proposal (500) or teaching plan (500 words) along with a CV before 15th April 2018. Applicants should outline how they intend to spend the bursary in the covering letter. Applications may be written in either English or French. Please indicate which prize you are applying for.

Please send all applications to Julie Rodgers (ACSI president) at the following email address: Julie.rodgers@mu.ie

As a condition of these awards, we ask that successful recipients become (if not already) a member of ACSI, submit a short report following the completion of the project and present their research at either our biennial conference or one of our one-day symposiums. Please note that being based at an institution on the island of Ireland is a requirement.
